

2022 Rodman C. Stewart Memorial Safety Leadership Award

Each year the Association seeks nominations for The Rodman C. Stewart Memorial Safety Leadership Award. This is to recognize the “outstanding individual in the ready mixed and aggregates industries that have made superior and substantial contributions to his or her company’s or to the industry’s efforts toward proactive, safe operating practices.”

The winner will be recognized at the Annual Conference on Wednesday, December 7, 2022 at the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs.

If you would like to nominate someone for this award, you can do so by completing the form below and submit by email to (jt@coloradocaa.org) no later than Wednesday, November 16.

People in this area of our industry fulfill a critical function that is vital to our safety and success.

Please do not overlook this chance to recognize them!
